SENATOR FULTON SPEAKS

Speech at Opera House in Behalf of Hermann.

Hon. C. W. Fulton, U. S. senator from Oregon, spoke at the opera house Monday evening in behalf of Binger Hermann republican candidate for congress. W. H. Hampton chairman of the republican committee introduced the speaker. As a speaker, Mr. Fulton is of the class that may be termed powerful. He has a strong and pleasant voice, a pleasing presence, and a most effective delivery.

In the opening of his speech he eulogized the late Congressman Tongue, expressing sorrow at the event which had made it necessary to elect a congressman at this time. He said he had no doubt that Binger Hermann would be elected to congress, giving as a reason the supposition that men would use the same business judgment in public matters that they would in private. He made a strong plea for Mr. Hermann on party lines, citing his hearers to the records of the two parties. He spoke kindly of the Reames from a personal stand point but ridiculed the idea that a democrat could be in harmony with the administration, referring to the charge that Hermann was out of harmony. This latter allegation was denied by Mr. Fulton, who said he knew positively that Mr. Hermann resigned from the land office because he disagreed with his superior, Secretary Hitchcock, concerning the minor details of the work and that the disagreement was not one which reflected on the character or ability of either man. As Mr. Hermann was the subordinate it was natural that he should be the one to resign rather than the secretary. From a purely business point of view also he urged the election of Mr. Hermann saying that a democrat could not get the advantageous committee assignments which a republican could and that it was in the committee where the real work is done. He presumed that the voters want the man who can do the most for Oregon. In conclusion he made a short address to the young men who were just taking their places among the voters and urged them to read the history of their country and be guided by the records in the selection of their political faith.

THE MEMORIAL SERVICES

Sermon at Presbyterian Church by Rev. J. W. McDougall.

Last Sunday was Memorial Sunday and was observed by union services, held at Bethany Presbyterian church. The church was appropriately decorated with the national colors and with plants and flowers. The organizations of the G. A. R., W. R. C., and O. N. G. attended in a body and the congregation which assembled filled the church to overflowing.

Rev. J. W. McDougall of the Newman M. E. church gave the sermon, Rev. W. G. Connell and Rev. Robt. Leslie assisting in the services. The sermon was full of eloquence and a high quality of patriotism and was enjoyed by the hearers with appreciation.

A DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

Literary and Musical Enjoyment By Woman's Club.

The Woman's club held a meeting at Woodmen hall on Saturday afternoon with a good attendance. After a brief business session, an excellent literary and musical program was rendered. Descriptive papers were read, on "Mt. Hood," by Mrs. T. F. Rourke, and on "Crafter Lake" by Mrs. W. C. Hale. These two of the most wonderful of Oregon's scenic attractions were beautifully described, with vivid word painting worthy of the grandeur of their subjects. The literature of Oregon was recognized in papers on Mrs. Dye, by Mrs. Jos. Moss and on Sam Simpson by Mrs. A. A. Porter. Charming vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Gault and Miss Carrie White, and Mrs. Robie's reading "Beautiful Willamette" and "The Mother of Men" was among the most enjoyed of the numbers. A song by a sextette of ladies was the concluding number and was enthusiastically encored.

RESENTING THE INSULT

Board of Trade Takes Action on Juggled Train Orders.

The executive committee of the board of trade held a meeting on Saturday evening to consider the matter of the affront put upon Grants Pass, on the occasion of the president's visit. It was decided to lay the matter formally by resolution before the Southern Pacific officials with a view to ascertaining if possible the source of the unjustly discriminating orders and that the guilty parties be fittingly rebuked.

Decoration Day Program.

Following is the program for Memorial day, May 30, 1903:

Procession will form opposite court house on Sixth street so as to be ready to march at 1:30 p. m. sharp as follows:

Grants Pass Brass Band, Company H, O. N. G., G. A. R. and old soldiers, W. R. C., School Children, Other Organizations and the Public.

They will march down Sixth street to bicycle ground where general orders will be read by Post Adjutant and secretary of the W. R. C. After which the cenotaph will be decorated to the unknown and returned comrades in accordance with the G. A. R. service with the assistance of the school children under the direction of the W. R. C. after which the children will be dismissed. The organizations will march to the opera house where the services of the day will be concluded. The exercises at the opera house will commence at 2:30 p. m. An interesting program will be rendered. There will be an address by Rev. T. A. Daughters and vocal music by the M. E. choir. Everybody is cordially invited. The decorating committee solicits flowers to be sent to opera house by 9 o'clock a. m. G. A. R. Committee.

Dr. Roberts Still Here.

Dr. Roberts, the eye specialist at the Western hotel, has been very busy since coming to Grants Pass and has concluded to stay until next Monday. Call and see the long list of persons he has fitted since coming here.

Dr. Roberts has one of the most complete optical outfits on the coast for the most intricate examinations and he also cuts all the lenses for his work. You don't have to wait, but can get your glasses within a few hours.

If you want really first class work in this line, don't fail to call on him soon, as next Monday is his last day. Examination free.

Commencement.

The mellow notes of music fill the spacious hall. And greet the eager ears of the silent waiting throng. The joy for the victory-crowned gladdens the hearts of all. Fond hopes for the "promising youth" kind time permits prolong.

Orations plaud the virtues of the greater life. And point out stars that dimly light the rugged height. A steady mind, a will to climb, a love of strife.

Will some glad day drop a victor's palm over a conquering knight. Forgotten are the strenuous days of the fleeing past. Forgotten are the dissembling frown and restraining hand. But close in memory's mystic chords, held forever fast, The living lessons remain potential for life's demand.

The school bell ring no longer startles to the feet. School hours and rules no longer hamper the free will. Within the throbbing world, necessity to meet.

A sterner school the lessons unlearned are harder still. A Student.

An explosion of molten rabbit metal occurred on Friday at the Ashland Iron works in which Master Mechanic George Wild was very severely burned in the face and may lose his sight.

GRANTS PASS IS DEFEATED

One-Sided Base Ball Game Is Played at Jacksonville.

The Grants Pass base ball team went to Jacksonville Sunday and indulged in a game of baseball with the home team of that town. Defeat perched upon the banners of the Grants Pass boys, the score standing 19 to 7 in favor of Jacksonville. The latter town has a very strong team this year and have been playing first class base ball since the opening of the season.

Musical Evening.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church gave a "musical evening" at the church parlors on Friday evening. There was a good attendance and a pleasant time. The program, consisting mainly of vocal and instrumental musical selections, was excellent throughout, every number fully meriting the high degree of appreciation which was accorded it by the audience. The evening was a most enjoyable one throughout.
